

Many things are going on in this country that are an atrocity. The greatest of these is to say "I am a Christian" and yet not apply Biblical principles to my own life. This is the situation that we face today. So many in our great land claim to be followers of God and believers in His Son, only to stand on the sidelines not wanting to say anything. Is this for fear, doubt in your own faith? What is it? Far too long Christians have watched as destruction lingers on the horizon. We need only to study a part of public education's core curriculum to understand what is going on. All of the great nations of the earth FELL when they were in the state we are in today. Babylon, Persia, Greece, Rome, study the history. As often as the Bible has been proven accurate, when so many have tried their hardest to prove it false, why do so many claim to follow the Scriptures yet turn a blind eye to what is before them. Study Daniel 1-4 and notice a pagan king that believed he could not be touched. Before his life was over he changed his tune. It is high time we changed ours and begin standing up for what is right. The following are two excerpts from Brad Harrub, Phd. If something is going to be done, it needs to be done now. We need to learn from this man's courage and fortitude, as well as many others, and take a stand. The question is, what are you going to do? Will you stand aside and watch, or get involved? Remember the ark? Only 8 lives saved in world population (1 Peter 3:20). Brings to light just how narrow that gate will be that leads to eternal life (Matthew 7:13-14) - Phillip Patton

Perspective

I met someone in Canada from Albania. She asked me how Americans were feeling about our President announcing he was supporting gay marriage. She then told me she had talked to her father who was still in Albania, and that he had literally cried over the phone at the fall of America. She said he went on for more than ten minutes about how great America had been, and now he was so saddened to watch our fall. MMmmmm, people in foreign countries see it, and weep...but most American Christians don't. Have we really become that desensitized and apathetic? Does the toad not realize the water is boiling now?? Letters to the President

Well, it is official. They got a folder on me for sure now (like they already didn't!) I just emailed the following to our President:

Dear President Obama,

I am not one who normally contacts my elected officials, but this is not a "normal" occasion. I wanted to personally share with you my anguish and shame over your decision to support homosexual marriage. While you and I could debate various aspects, I would remind you that our "opinions" do not ultimately matter. Rather, God has already made clear this behavior is sin. You are publicly supporting something God has deemed sinful. Your decision has cast the moral compass of America into the depths of the sea. I weep for our nation--and hope one day you will consider what you have done in the sight of God. I am praying for you.

Sincerely,

Brad Harrub

Let me encourage YOU to let your voice be heard. I'm sure he is receiving KUDOS from homosexual activists, but what is he hearing from Christians? Go to www.whitehouse.gov and let him hear from those of us who still believe in God

Dear President Obama,

Like many that have already addressed you concerning this issue, I too am not one that tends to contact government officials. Unfortunately this is not an unimportant matter. A great atrocity is being committed when God's sanctioning is stepped on by man. Your decision to support homosexual marriage has done just that. God said this behavior is sin. This issue does not only affect the children to come in this nation but is seen by everyone the world over and brings shame upon a great nation. Historically, nations plagued with shame fall. I am praying for you and our nation.

Sincerely,

Phillip Patton
